The Bienvenue en France label
What is the “Bienvenue en France” label?

To apply for the “Bienvenue en France” label, an institution must:

- be a French institution of higher education
- offer programs regulated by the French government or by recognized accrediting organizations
- provide services to support international students.

The Bienvenue en France Labeling Commission—made up of members of three conferences of academic institutions (CPU, CGE, CDEFI), in addition to CTI, HCERES, and Campus France—evaluates applications for the label from French institutions of higher education. The commission is empowered to award the label for a period of four years. One to three stars may appear on the label, reflecting the quality of services offered.

Let’s say you are an international student and would like to study in France.

The Bienvenue en France label helps you identify institutions offering services that will facilitate your study plans and your career development—before, during, and after your stay in France.

⇒ For the list of the institutions that have earned the label, visit www.campusfrance.org/en/bienvenue-en-france-certification-institutions-certified

1. CPU = conference of university presidents; CGE = conference of the Grandes Écoles; CDEFI = conference of directors of French schools of engineering; CTI = commission on engineering degrees; HCERES = high council for the evaluation of research and higher education.
Rely on the Bienvenue en France label to help you identify institutions offering the services you need.

- Find complete information about the Bienvenue en France label on the Campus France web site: https://www.campusfrance.org/en/the-bienvenue-en-france-label

Support services from the moment you arrive

- Welcome desk, help at the airport or train station, help with administrative requirements

Housing services

- Rooms in university housing, solo and shared rentals, living with a French family

Activities throughout the year

- Orientation events, seminars on settling in, guided visits, touristic outings

Special help from a “mentor”

- A peer already in France, there to guide you even before you leave home

Tailored support related to your academic program

- Seminars in methodology and academic practices, courses in French as a foreign language, courses taught in English

Career development and networking

- Help in finding a job or an internship, contacts in the professional world

For more information on all of these measures, consult Campus France’s “Label Profiles”, which summarize the services offered by labeled institutions. The profiles can be found on the Campus France site: Resources center > Reception arrangements in Institutions

Despite the coronavirus, France has made arrangements to welcome international students and scholars for long and short stays at their host institutions.

> Full details can be found on the Campus France website.
Study in France

Visit a Campus France office near you

More than 250 offices in

More than 120 countries offer personalized support

Join the France Alumni community

326,000 members

Study in English: more than 1,600 programs taught in English
> taughtie. campusfrance.org

Study online: 700 programs combining distance and on-campus learning > foad.campusfrance.org/#/main

Learn French:
> ecolesdete.campusfrance.org

Get detailed information on bachelor’s and master’s programs:
> cataloguelm.campusfrance.org

Learn everything there is to know about research in France:
> doctorat.campusfrance.org/phd/dschools/main

Finance your study in France:
> campusbourses.campusfrance.org

Apply online to programs in art, architecture, and fashion:
> www.campusart.org

Dispose of properly. Please do not litter.

www.campusfrance.org